Message from JS&MD (HFA) Shri Kuldip Narayan

Over the years, Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana-Urban has brought a new meaning to the lives of its beneficiaries, for whom a house in their name was once a distant dream. It's been more than seven years since this programme was implemented and everyone associated with PMAY-U has worked hard to make it a success. Majorly, we owe the success to our beneficiaries, who helped us in making every step count. States/UTs have also left no stone unturned in implementation of PMAY-U at every level and the countless transformation stories are a testimony to this fact.

Key to the house, rightfully opens several doors of opportunities for not only one person, but for an entire family. Recently, Hon'ble Chief Minister of Uttar Pradesh handed over the keys to PMAY-U houses to different beneficiaries across various cities of the State. Similarly, Hon'ble Union Minister for Housing & Urban Affairs also distributed the keys to some beneficiaries in Srinagar & Thiruvallur. Events like these boost up the confidence of the beneficiaries & ours too.

Timely review of PMAY-U projects add up to the seamless running of the programme. States/UTs do it at their level and at the Centre, regular interaction and meetings are held with State/UT officials to look after the implementation strategy.

An impressive work is also being done for construction of Light House Projects. We have already dedicated two projects of Chennai & Rajkot to beneficiaries and work is being done swiftly at Lucknow, Indore, Ranchi & Agartala to hand over the houses to the allotted families.

2022 is about to end in one month from now. As I look back, I see it to be an eventful year with the Union Cabinet's decision to extend PMAY-U, inauguration of LHP Chennai & LHP Rajkot and hosting of the largest urban housing conclave in India.

Let us all keep doing our bit in implementation of PMAY-U and be the reason behind the smiles of our beneficiaries.

PMAY-U house has given a new meaning to our lives: Smt Gulabwati, beneficiary from Malihabad, Uttar Pradesh

Smt Gulabwati is proud owner of a beautiful house constructed under Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (Urban). She hails from Malihabad, Uttar Pradesh and lives with her husband Shri Santosh Kumar Gupta and their five children in her pucca house. It was in 2019 that the family moved into their dream house from a kutcha dilapidated shelter.

Smt Gulabwati says, "We faced a lot of issues in our day-to-day life due to the poor condition of our old house. There were drainage and flooding issues during the monsoon. The house did not even have water, electricity, toilet or kitchen facilities." She adds that having a pucca house of her own was her longest wish, but financial problems came her way due to which she thought the dream of having a pucca roof over her head would remain a dream for her entire life.

She is a housewife while her husband works at a private coaching centre. PMAY-U home came as a blessing for them right on time as their daughter got married here. "The house has given a new meaning to our lives. We are happily living in our pucca house. My daughter got married after we got this beautiful house constructed. Earlier, due to the condition of our old house, no good alliance came for her," Smt Gulabwati expresses.

Their house has all basic amenities like water, kitchen, toilet, electricity and gas connection. Like Smt Gulabwati, more than 64 Lakh other families have got pucca houses under PMAY-U with all facilities. The Mission was launched in 2015 to provide all-weather pucca house to eligible beneficiaries in urban areas.
