Message from JS&MD (HFA) Shri Kuldip Narayan

Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana – Urban, a vision that took root a decade ago, has since touched crores of lives. We recently marked 10 transformative years of PMAY-U scheme. In the past one decade, the Scheme just didn't deliver pucca houses, but also delivered hope and opportunities along. More than 93.61 lakh families have got access to a safe place to call home. The transformation of beneficiaries from a thatched kutcha house or cramped rented spaces to a pucca house of their own speak volumes of how PMAY-U has brought dignity, security and a better quality of life.

The spirit of cooperative federalism has played a pivotal role in the remarkable journey of PMAY-U. This success of PMAY-U is an outcome of the concerted efforts of all the stakeholders at Centre, State/UT/ULB level and most importantly, the beneficiaries, who form the core of the Mission.

As I look back, we celebrate the milestone of touching the lives of crores of families of India, spanning diverse cultural, socio-economic, regional and linguistic backgrounds and look forward to making an impact on 1 crore additional families under PMAY-U 2.0.

10 years of PMAY-U: A decade of transformation, a change forever

'Housing for All' Mission - Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (Urban) completed 10 years of its implementation in June 2025. Launched in June 2015, the Scheme has turned the dream of owning a pucca house into a reality for crores of urban families across the nation. In the last 10 years, the Scheme has not only empowered the poor and the marginalized section of society with a dignified place of living, but also promoted women empowerment by ensuring ownership of houses in the name of female member of the household or in joint name and has also improved the quality of life for families by giving them access to better health, education and livelihood opportunities.

On the occasion, Secretary, MoHUA released a book depicting transformation of PMAY-U beneficiaries through a pucca house.

As of date, around 1.20 crore houses have been sanctioned under the Scheme while more than 93.61 lakh houses have already been completed and delivered to beneficiaries. It includes 7.10 lakh houses sanctioned under PMAY-U 2.0. Out of the total approved Central Assistance of ₹2.01 lakh crore, ₹1.71 lakh crore has been released. Owing to the magnitude at which PMAY-U has been implemented, the Scheme is among the largest housing programmes in the world.

The spirit of cooperative federalism has played a pivotal role in the remarkable journey of PMAY-U. This success of PMAY-U is an outcome of the concerted efforts of all the stakeholders at Centre, State/UT/ULB level and most importantly, the beneficiaries, who form the core of the Mission.

PMAY-U has touched the lives of crores of families of India, spanning diverse cultural, socio-economic, regional and linguistic backgrounds. The transformation of beneficiaries from a thatched kutcha house or cramped rented spaces to a pucca house of their own speak volumes of how PMAY-U has brought dignity, security and a better quality of life. Housing is not just about four walls and a roof, it is also a symbol of respect, security and empowerment - which the crores of beneficiaries under PMAY-U have experienced.

States/UTs also marked the celebrations by organising different events.
