HIMACHAL PRADESH

Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (Urban) [PMAY(U)] has given my family an opportunity to have a better and decent quality of life,” says Parveen Devi. She lives in Himachal Pradesh's Hamirpur district with her husband Vikram Raj. The couple resided in a kutcha house which was in a deplorable condition. They had to face severe challenges during extreme weather conditions.

Owing to hardships faced by the family, Parveen desperately wanted to move into a pucca home. However, financial constraints stopped her. Her husband strived hard to get the funds to build a home. Then, they came to know about PMAY(U) Scheme. It gave them confidence to construct their dream house which was earlier not feasible.

“After approved site verification and documentation, the construction work of our house was completed within a stipulated time period. We feel proud to own the home and we are thankful towards the Government of India for helping us fulfil our dream,” says Parveen Devi and Vikram Raj.
