

PARIMALA G

PUDUCHERRY

Parimala G, along with her husband, two children, her husband's elder brother's family and mother-in-law, initially lived in a small house. Since the space was not sufficient for a big family, Parimala G and her family moved into a rented accommodation in Puducherry's Karaikal. They lived in that home for 10 years. Her husband is a labourer and is the sole bread-earner of the family.

The condition of their rented house was not up to the mark. They suffered a lot due to extreme weather conditions. The children faced hardship in studying. They had to share a common toilet. The condition of the family made extremely upset, but due to limited income, she decided to continue staying in the same house. Parimala thought she would never be able to come out of her present living conditions until she came to know about PMAY(U) Scheme through a radio advertisement.

"My children and the concern about their future made me think of building a new home for them," Parimala said.

Through the financial assistance received under PMAY(U), she constructed a beautiful pucca house.

"The new house not only shelters us, but also gives us access to better social environment. My husband and I want to educate our child. Education is the only way to uplift our status. I am thankful to PMAY(U) for giving us the wings to dream of a better life," said Parimala.
